Poetry.

Love Thy Neighbor.

BY R. H. STODDARD.

From "The Book of the East."

"'Love thy neighbor as thyself,'
When at dawn I meet her,
As by the garden wall she stands,
And gives me flowers across the wall,
My heart goes out to kiss her hands,—
Are hands or flowers the sweeter?—
I'm ready at her feet to fall,
And like a clown to labor!
Better than I love myself
Do I love my neighbor!"

"'Love thy neighbor as thyself,'
When at dawn I meet him,
As by the garden wall he stands,
And takes my flowers across the wall,
My soul's already in his hands,—
It flew so fast to greet him!
And O, I grow so proud and tall,
And my heart beats like a tabor!
Better than I love myself
Do I love my neighbor!"

Selected Story.

In the Suds.

BY CHARLES J. CHATFIELD.

"A most unpoetic theme, promising little save steam, and a combination of Mondayish odors;" say you, oh faithful reader, who, having conscientiously paid your subscription and filed your receipt, seek to glean from these pages instruction and amusement?

Didst ever pass on the windward side of a pearl oyster, just ready for the knife of the seeker for hid treasures?

No!

Then you may fail to appreciate the fact that your hasty decision is by no means based upon a logical course of reasoning.

Carrie Allen would have agreed with you, though, as, on a sultry morning in July, she toiled over a wash-board under a great apple tree in the back yard. Her plump arms suffered little by contrast with the soapy foam which she so vigorously conjured up, until it rose nearly to a level with the top of her tub, and the clearness of her complexion proved that she had been reared in a family where the pork-barrel was not the Alpha and Omega of dietetics.

Doty washers and Universal wringers were deemed a useless waste of money by Farmer Allen, whose mother and grandmother had never used them, and hence they found no place in his household.

The line full of half-dried garments, and the pile of bed and table linen in the mammoth basket by her side, bore witness to the industry of the girl who, as she gave the last twist to a snowy counterpane and turned to place it among its fellows, was surprised to find a stranger regarding her movements.

His step, upon the velvet turf of the old farm yard, had been so light as to render her unconscious of his approach, and her color hightened as, removing his broad-brimmed straw hat, he said:

"I beg your pardon, Miss, I am in search of a trout-stream, which I was told at the station lay somewhere in this direction; may I trouble you for some information in regard to it?"

"The little stream among the hazels yonder must be the one, I think; replied she in a courteous tone, glancing toward a belt of dark green, that skirted the further side of a meadow, behind the farm buildings; "my brother sometimes fishes in it further up the glen; trout seldom come down so far as this."

"A college chum of mine used to live somewhere in this neighborhood," he remarked apparently less anxious to pursue his piscatorial adventure than to continue the conversation; "I should be glad if you could tell me whether Harvey Allen is about home."

"He is, sir;" said she smiling; "Harvey Allen is my brother. He is at work somewhere about the farm."

"Johnnie, Johnnie!" she called to a little fellow, who was approaching from the direction of the barn, with a half-rimless palmleaf filled to overflowing with eggs, "where are they working this forenoon?"

"Cradlin' up on the hill lot," answered the youngster, scratching the turf with the toes of one bare foot, while poised upon the other, he viewed the elegant fishing-rod of the stranger with open-mouthed admiration.

"Go up and tell Harvey that a gentleman wishes to see him." John moved at a slow pace toward the house, casting every now and then a glance at that wonderful fishing-rod. Hurrying back as soon as he had emptied his hat, he began: "Now, Sis, pa is awful busy, and I can show the man where he can catch more fish than Harvy can; I know where is some reg'lar busters."

The stranger laughed.

Carrie blushed at Johnnie's ill-timed remark, and bade him go for his brother at once.

Seeing that she was in earnest, he started off at a brisk pace, not even looking back until he reached the first fence.

"If you will step into the house, sir, my brother will be here very soon," said she, unpinning her sleeves, and rolling them down as she spoke.

"With your permission, then, I will wait for him here," he replied, seating himself upon the tongue of a wagon drawn in front of the corn-crib.

"Pray do not let me disturb you in the least."

"Then I will go on with my washing, and take you at your word," was her pleasant rejoinder, as she turned to her tub and resumed her task.

George Merrill watched and wondered.

Here was a simple country girl, as much at her ease, beside a wash tub in her father's yard, as though he had been a thousand miles distant, instead of noting every turn of her nimble fingers. To be sure she was Allen's sister, Allen had plenty of good sense and genuine manliness about him; but then the young woman whom he had known had not the strength, even if they had been inclined, to rush a washing in that fashion. What would either of his three butterfly sisters say to such a tax upon her vitality, supposing her pride would permit her to attempt it? He had heard his mother boast of such feats performed in girlhood, before her removal to the city and her marriage to the rising young lawyer, but had always regarded them as someyhat apocryphal. How neat-looking this maiden was, too, with the large apron over her pretty calico, and her close-fitting button boots. His revery was interrupted by the cheery voice of his friend.

"Well, well, old boy; what lucky wind blew you in this direction?"

"Hardly lucky, though, either, since it stranded you in the back-yard."

"Puss, why don't you show my friend into the house? Suppose you hardly need an introduction by this time. George, permit me to present my sister, Miss Allen; Mr. Merrill, Carrie."

The young people bowed, and Merrill said:

"I must hasten to acquit Miss Allen of any imputation of neglect. I petitioned to be allowed to remain here, as I am partial to outdoor air."

"I expected you sooner, or I should have warned Mr. Merrill that he would find it pleasanter in the library," Carrie added.

"Johnnie found me fighting yellow jackets, and I was loath to leave them unsubdued, as we had robbed neighbor Barton's wife of a boiler of hot suds expressly for a vigorous attack, and the men were a little shy of cradling into the fence corner until I had wet down the squatters. Fire wouldn't answer, as the nest was on the lower rail, and the grass would have been almost sure to catch."

"But come into the house, George, and, after dinner, I'll show you as pretty a place to throw a fly as there is in the State."

"Sit down while I lay off my denims," said Harvey, as he led his guest into a cozy little sitting-room.

"You will find some papers there, though I suppose you digested a daily this morning. There's the last Agriculturist, I'll warrant you have not seen that, and a North Carolinian or two, if my sister has not given them to our dairywoman's children, as she generally does when she has read them herself; thinking that 'the poor we have always with us,' I suppose."

"I'll be back in less than seven minutes, so make yourself easy," cried the merry fellow as he ran up stairs.

Seating himself by the open window, the young man, while awaiting the return of his friend, looked about him.

"The same jolly, frank soul that he was at New Haven, nothing could spoil him, though how he can stay in this quiet place, and drudge through these hot days, when he is one of the best chemists that ever took his B. S., is ahead of my calculation.

"I don't know, though, as he stands much in need of my commiseration with that wide-awake sister of his for company. Let's see; here's a piano, there's a sewing machine, that guitar must be her's too, and shades of Raphael! there's an easel; Allen don't paint," soliloquized he, stepping quietly into the bay window to get a better view.

Looking out, he saw that the sketch represented the meadows and hill before him with great fidelity.

"Do all these things, and big washings to boot, eh? Well, if any man had told me I wouldn't have believed it; cooks dinners, too, no doubt; wonder if she always expects to live in this way," he mused, reseating himself.

"Allen told me that his sister was at Mount Holyoke until after her mother died; now she is paying for her education by keeping house for her father, like a dutiful child; and household help being so uncertain, she helps herself, with the assistance of that little creature that I saw peeling potatoes, and her brother Johnnie to hunt eggs."

"What a life, and still she has a business-like way that must be the result of such training.

"I'll get myself invited to stay a week, just to study her, for she certainly differs much from any woman whom I have met."

The young man stretched himself out in the easy-chair and yawned.

The stiff Summer day and his meditations combined, rendered him well content with his situation. Their character we leave for the future to develop.

Soon the heir apparent came down, humming softly a snatch from the last opera. Taking a chair, he inquired:

"How did you happen to find us out, Merrill? I had an idea of your being so far from the gay world at this season; supposed you were at Saratoga, or were off for a trip to the Thousand Isles, with a lot of other fellows who had the Summer to kill artistically."

"Not I, indeed. Then you hadn't heard that I had quieted into a sober young M. D., and been admitted to partnership with old Dr. Selwyn, with a fair prospect of succeeding to his practice one of these fine mornings?"

"Not a word of it. Permit me to offer congratulations upon your lucky escape from the ranks of the do-nothing brigade, which generally recruits among you chaps who have a heavy bank account under your lee."

"Thank you, old fellow, and in return let me ask what you are devoting your surplus energies to. Expected to hear of you as settled in a drug-store in a thriving Western town, or as superintendent of some chemical works nearer home."

"I am intending to enter upon the latter in the Spring."

"Indeed, where do you propose locating?"

"Here."

"Here! why I didn't suppose there was an opening for that sort of thing within fifty miles of this neighborhood."

"There is, though; I propose to engage in the manufacture of grass, beef, and mutton."

"You don't mean to say that you will turn farmer?"

"No, not turn farmer, for I have been one from boyhood, but my father is getting old and I mean to rent the place in the Spring, and install him in the chimney-corner for the remainder of his days."

"All right, I'll give in; but why expend such a sum upon your education if its all to be buried in the earth?"

"The most fitting place for it. I bury it that it may grow, and if I bring this farm up to a high standard and introduce improved stock and labor-saving machinery, it will be money well spent, not only for me as an individual, but for every member of the community in which I was reared."

"Why, you are a regular enthusiast, Allen; you, whom we used to consider so unmoved, as you worked among us in the laboratory."

"It's enough to make one enthusiastic, to see the future that is before the agriculturists of this country, if they will but reach forth and grasp it," replied Allen, his clear eye kindling as he spoke.

"Such an army of non-producers to feed around every manufacturing village, and 'wars and rumors of wars' in Europe, enough to insure a ready market for all the breadstuffs which we can spare."

"Dinner is ready, Harvey," said a pleasant voice in the doorway, behind Merrill.

He turned and saw Carrie, in a fresh white muslin, with a rosebud at her throat, and two or three twisted carelessly among the braids of dark brown hair. She presided at table with a grace which charmed the fastidious young physician, even more than her self-possession over the wash-tub, and, the meal finished, he seemed in no hurry to pursue the sport which he had left his duties in the city to enjoy.

* * * * * * *

"Good-by, George," said Harvey Allen, as, six months later, the bridal party entered the sleigh which was to convey them to the railway.

"Many a fine fish has been taken by anglers from the city, on this farm, but you are the first one who ever ventured to cast a line IN THE SUDS."

The New Hampshire Election—Let the "Old North State" do Likewise.

Washington, D. C. March 16th, 1872.

To the Editor of the North Carolinian:

The old Granite State of New Hampshire has sounded the key note of the Campaign and Democracy stands aghast at the result—1300 majority for the Republican Party over all the opposing factions, a large gain upon the last vote acheived against the gigantic struggles so energetically put forward by the opposition, that it has spread gloom and doubt upon the high hopes of the leaders of the defeated party, and we observe them in little knots crest-fallen as ducked hens, striving to weather their hopes "neath the apparent disruptions" in the Republican ranks—How they can harmonize the result of the election with the mongrel assembly that is expected to meet in the West is beyond our conception.

This victory is looked upon by the friends of the administration as but the begining, yea fore-taste of the fruits to be reaped in the present campaign, and it seems to inspire confidence, and harmony in the ranks which will cause an overwhelming victory for the Republican Party.

Thus as the State of New Hamshire has been redeemed from Democratic rule, it is to be hoped that the good old State of North Carolina will in August and November next follow in her wake, and roll up such a majority for the Republican Party as will astouish the most sanguine expectations of her friends. This can be done Mr. Editor with united action. Let us ignore all factions and cliques, lay aside all prejudices, and bring out men in our conventions that will reflect honor and credit not only upon the party but the state, and as sure as night follows day, a bright future awaits the State with a large majority, for the Republicans.

The coming campaign is one of the utmost importance and significance, to every lover of justice and good government, and I can conceive of no greater calamity to befall the State than a Republican defeat. It is very necessary to elect a majority of the Republican Legislators in order to reelect the present able and efficient U. S. Senator. No man has a greater claim on the party than Hon. Jno. Pool, for he has battled faithfully for their rights amid the most discouraging and trying times. He has stood up amid the cry of persecution, while the darkest clouds of adversity overhung our political horizon, and the old State was rocked in the cradle of Mis-rule Democracy still with the helm of the Republican ship in his hands and with an unfaltering nerve he is guiding her amid the breakers and opposing current, and before another year shall roll over our heads he will bring the Ship out of the storm with flying banners, guns firing, and shouts from a victorious people, crying "Redeemed from Democratic mis-rule."

Respectfully,

PITH.

A First Class Collector.

He is on time to a minute when the debtor says come to-morrow at 9 o'clock.

Sits on the steps and waits for his return when he says "I am just going to dinner."

Insists on stepping out to make change when the man "has nothing less than a twenty."

Will go for an "old stager" every day for a month with a cheerful countenance about that little account.

Doesn't mind edging into a crowd to ask a fellow.

Will take a dollar in part if he can't get ten in whole, and credit it with thankful alacrity.

Always suggests a check when the money is not at hand, as he can get it cashed to-morrow.

Always has that account on top so the man can make no excuse for putting him off.

Don't mind asking for it immediately after being treated or pleasantly entertained.

Is never in a hurry, can wait till you get through.

Cuts off the retreat of the dodger by crossing over to meet him, or follows him into a store where he goes to hide.

Can cough or salute when the hard case wants to pass without seeing him.

Is fine—is patient as a dose, cheerful as a duck, sociable as a flea, brave as a lion, weather-proof as a rubber, cunning as a fox, and watchful as a sparrowhawk.

A Sad Falling Out.—It is indeed a sad falling out when, after years of the closest intimacy, the hair parts company with the the head. Fortunately the lamentable separation may be easily prevented and the twain more closely united than ever by a timely and systematic use of Lyon's Kathairon, the most potent invigorant of the hair and promoter of its growth and beauty known to modern pharmacy. It completely obviates the dry and parched condition of the roots of the hair, which is preliminary to its coming out, by supplying the precise degree of moisture requisite to its preservation in a healthy state. It is the only true dissolvent and evaporaud of dandruff and other impurities of the scalp, whose presence is injurious to the hair. As a beautifier of the head the Kathairon has no equal. It not only increases the quantity of the hair, but improves its quality immediately, imparting a lustrous appearance and silky texture which are exceedingly attractive.

A lady wished a seat. A portly, handsome gentleman brought one and seated the lady. "Oh! you're a jewel," said she. "Oh! no," he replied: "I'm a jeweler. I have just set the jewel."

The Japanese Embassy at Washington—Imposing Ceremonies.

The Orient and the Occident have been having emphatically a convivial time during the past week. After the presentation of Iwakura and his assistant ambassadors to the President, those sedate diplomatic functonaries of far off "Nipon" felt more at ease to move around and see the sights of the Capital of the Republic of the West. Accordingly the Ambassadorial "Japs" ever since have been ubiquitous. From the basement to the dome of the vast and magnificent marble pile, the Capital, they might be seen with their almond-eyed vision somewhat enlarged in proportion to the dimentions of things.

On last Tuesday night the grand official public reception passed off with success. The decorations were superb and the music appropriate. Iwakura the Chief Embassador stood flanked by the Vice President and Secretary of State. The disproportion of stature between the Mongolian Ambassadors, and the Caucasian dignitaries between whom he was sandwiched, gave the former a very poor opportunity of showing off to advantage. Shortly after ten o'clock some of the livelier couples began dancing in the hall. As the women have no part in official occasions in Japan, and indeed have no souls according to the faith of the land, one of the most striking features of western society has been the equality of the sexes. The dancing therefore created a considerable diversion from the hundreds of ladies and gentlemen thronging across the raised dias.

On the next day the Embassy received the honors of the House of Representatives. The crowd on this occasion was immense. The loveliness and fashion of the Capital were assembled in the galleries. On the floor were the representatives of forty millions of people. The extraordinary character of the scene, however, did not seem to disturb the decorum of the guests. The Ambassadors, escorted by General Banks and the rest of the committee, marched through the main door and down the main aisle to the open space in front of the Speaker's desk, with a decidedly burial tread and appearance. General Banks managed the affair in one of his happiest ways. The Ambassadors and Secretaries having formed a sort of semi-circle the General presented them in the following words:

The committee of the House of Representatives assigned to that duty, according to its instructions, now have the honor to present to you and to the Hon. Iwakura and their Excelencies Kido, Ohmbo and Ito, Ambassadors-in-chief and Assistant Ambassadors of the government of Japan, the honorable Secretaries of the Embassy, and the honorable Commissioners of the principal Departments of Japan, with their attaches

As each of these names were mentioned the individuals owning such appellation made a profound obeisance.

Speaker Blaine then welcomed the Ambassadors in the following neat and appropriate speech:

YOUR EXCELLENCIES.—On behalf of the House of Representatives I welcome your Imperial Embassy to this Hall. The reception which is thus extended to you so unanimously and cordially by the members of this body is significant of the interest which our whole people feel in the rapidly developing relations between the Japanese empire and the American republic. The course of immigration for the human race has for many centuries been steadly westward, a course always marked by conquest and too often by rapine. Reaching the boundary of our Continent we encounter a returning tide from your country setting eastward, seeking not the trophies of war, but the more shining victaries of peace; and these, two currents, of population appropriately meet an mingle on the shores of the great Pacific Sea. It will be my pleasure to present to you personally the representatives of the people, and beg to assure you, for them and for myself, that during your stay at our capital you will be at all times welcome to the privileges and courtesies of the floor.

Not to be outdone the slick Iwakura came ready cocked and primed. No sooner had the Speaker concluded than the Ambassador began to fumble about his pockets and finally drew out a prodigious roll of man

HONEST WHIGS CUTTING LOOSE FROM DEMOCRACY.

We have always felt a warm sympathy—a sort of fraternal feeling for honest, consistent Old line Whigs. Our ancestors were Whigs, and we were reared in the School teaching the tenets of that grand old Party. It was a glorious party—a party of principles. In the nation it was led by intellectual giants and patriotic statesmen like CLAY and WEBSTER, and in this State by BADGER, and GASTON and STANLEY. Its leading principles were founded upon the sound and logical theory that the adoption of the Constitution of the United States was the formation of a Government by the people which was not only able to enforce its laws and protect its citizens, but protect itself; that it was more than a mere league or compact. It also believed in a National Banking system, and a Tariff for the support of the Government and incidental protection! For these principles the National Whig Party contended and struggled until overwhelmed and defeated by the party led by CALHOUN and JEFFERSON DAVIS. And following that defeat, and as the direct result of Democratic victories, came the bloody and desolating war so truthfully and graphically predicted by CLAY and WEBSTER.

So much for the past. Now for the present. The Republican party of to-day like the grand old Whig party of the past, is based upon the same theory of Government. It believes that the Constitution forms a government of the people and repudiates the Democratic heresy of secession. Like its predecessor it believes in a National Banking system, and in a Tariff for governmental purposes and incidental to Home Industry. Those were leading doctrines of the Old Whig Party; they are fundamental tenets of the National Republican Party.

Thousands of old line Whigs, realizing these truths, joined the Republican party at its organization. Thousands more, as they have taken time for examination and reflection, have been gradually falling into line, and now, that the aim and purpose of the Democratic party is already manifest, is there any reason why an honest Whig should longer hesitate in leaving that organization and henceforth co-operate with the Republicans?

In this Senatorial and Congressional District there are a large number of Whigs who, while the opposition sailed under the "Conservative" banner, voted with them. They now see that the Democratic leaders were practicing deception—that they were only shod in sheep skin shoes, with the wool turned outward, that they could not be heard until prepared for their final spring. The leap has already been taken, the disguise has been thrown off, and the claws and spurs of the old secession Democracy are plainly visible. Honest Whigs cannot do violence to their convictions by following any such leadership. In Pasquotank, in Camden and in other counties numbers of them are openly avowing their intention henceforth to co-operate with the Republican party. It is natural that they should do so.

EDUCATION FOR ALL.

The system for popular, free Education is a beneficient one. While those who are rich can support our Colleges and Boarding Schools, it places the means of a common education within the reach of those who are not. Its design is to erect a School House upon every hill top and in every valley so that all may have the facilities for home instruction in their possession. It was the Younger PLINY, who, in an address to the citizens of Corno remarked: "Where can your children have a more agreeable residence than amid the haunts of their childhood? Where can they form their manners with more safety than in the sight of their fathers and mothers? Where will their expenses be less than within the pale of their own homes?" Acknowledging the full force of these arguments, we need the common free Schools for another and stronger reason.

The necessity for public Schools is now conceded even in the Old World, where the citizen is born and reared under the aegis of his respective form of government and moulded according to its dictates and where he is refused a participation in its deliberations. We may well apply the a fortiori here and say how much more necessary is education in a New World, whose inhabitants are composed of the heterogeneous elements of every clime, and the genius of whose institutions not only permits, but demands his participation. As citizen, voter, witness and juror, we need to be enlightened, and as one great nation, we need to make stronger the principle of cohesion.

The particles of which this earth is composed are made the subjects of one law. The incongruous elements of this expanding nation must be assimilated and made subject to one law of habits, prejudices and preferences, or the mass will fall asunder. And as the mass becomes larger, the principle that cements it should operate with greater power. The commingling elements must not only become attached to our institutions but they must forget their own. "The expulsive power of a new affection," of which Dr. CHALMERS so elegantly discourse, should be implanted in the heart of every exotic member of the rising generation. There should not only be a patriotism inculcated, but it should be accompanied with the power to expel all those established or inherited predelictions which so often cling to the heart "like hope clings to the soul." What can secure this better than a public and widely diffused system of Education, which, like a great crucible, shall unite all the uncongenial particles in the bonds of one common affinity? Let the attachment to our own blessed institutions be the great magnet which hold us together, and the hope of their perpetuation be the polar star which shall guide us through danger, and then, in truth, will our country be "the Palladium of Civil Liberty."

There was a time when the demagogue had things pretty much his own way in certain sections of the South. Happily, that day is passing away—let us fervently hope forever. The people are rising up above the influence of the pestiferous class who made it the boast that they could use the masses at their will. They ply their vocation still it is true, but the people do not follow as in the days gone bye. Public opinion is being more and more moulded and shaped by intelligence. There is more reading and more thinking done by the voters than ever before. And the more this is done the less plastic do they become for the handling of demagogues.

---

A late number of Harper's Weekly contains a cartoon which tells an "o'er true tale" of the progress of an ignorant, neglected street boy from idleness through vice and crime to a felons cell. It is the story of thousands. Could there be a more powerful argument for our grand system of Popular Education? Give every boy an opportunity to learn; teach him good morals, industrious habits, and inspire him with laudable ambition—an opportunity which only free common Schools afford—and the chances of his becoming a vicious and depraved man are a hundred fold diminished.

The Democratic cry is that everything is going to ruin unless it succeeds in obtaining control of the Government for the next four years, and if we are to believe the oft-repeated prediction of its leaders the star of the Republic is about to go out in utter darkness, if the people persist in keeping the terrible Republicans in power. But the people have resolved to do it and the star will shine all the brighter.

---

For the past ten years the Democracy has butted its head against the most stubborn and well established facts, and although trained in the bitter school of experience, it seems to have learned nothing and forgotten nothing. It has shifted its position before the public four different times during the last decade, and to-day is at sea without a compass of any kind, or even a pilot of ordinary or average experience.

---

"It is possible that the Democratic party might defeat Grant without going outside of the organization."—Dem. Ex.

A good many things would be certain if they were not doubtful. So many honest Democrats are going "outside the organization" and shutting the door behind them that the hoped for possibility is already a fixed im-possible thing.

From the tone of several of our Democratic exchanges we infer that they do not propose to follow the leadership of the Sentinel. They evince an independence and manliness we cannot help admiring.

New Books, Periodicals, &c.

The Galaxy for April is an unusually bright and attractive number. The opening article is a candid and not flattering estimate of Charles Reade, by Justin McCarthy. Albert Rhodes sketches "The French at Home." G. A. Custer writes of "My Life on the Plains." Nellie M. Hutchinson has a thoughtful and for the most part fair essay on "Woman and Journalism." Gideon Wells contributes an important political paper on "Lincoln and Johnson." The usual serials are continued, and there are three good stories of which "Very Narrow Indeed" is best; also, several short poems. The editorial departments are lively and interesting.

The NATIONAL BUSINESS INDEX is a new monthly magazine; "encyclopedia of business knowledge for the people." It contains a very large amount of information both interesting and valuable to the general public. Every thing is classified and arranged with thorough system, and at the same time presented in readable, attractive style. The price is exceedingly low, only 50 cents a year. The publishers also present a very fine chromo, "Apple Blossoms," (one of Prang's, worth in the art stores $1.00 each) to each subscriber. Send for specimen copy to THE INDEX COMPANY, 433 West Jackson Street, Chicago, Ill.

---

Our Young Folks for April is as bright as bright can be. Trowbridge's story and "Crusoe Life" are continued; James Parton writes of "The First Baptism in Congo;" Mrs. M. A. Dennison, of the city, tells a story of "The Little French Girl of St. Sulpice," and there are some remarkably pleasant illustaat poems, a chapter about "A Few Dogs," and other articles well worth reading. With every month Our Young Folks becomes more attractive and every way satisfactory to old as well as young readers.

---

Lippincott's Magazine for April contains another installment of Whymper's "Scrambles," the second paper entitled "At Home with the Patagonians," "Reminisconces of the Early Stages of the Rebellion," by Horatio King; "Private Art Collections of Philadelphia," 'Bits of Steamer Life," by Prentice Mulford; chapters of the regular serials, and several stories and poems. Altogether it is a bright and attractive number.

ASSISTANT DEMOCRATS SQUIRMING.

The declaration of the Tribune that the Philadelphia Convention would be an office holder's gathering as contradistinguished from the Cincinnati Convention, which per contra, is to be made up of men who either want office or want to remain in office against the will of the Republican Party, has made some stir here among the papers. The occasion for it arose from the fact that there is an effort now being made to quietly arrange a choice of delegates to Cincinnati, and the correspondent of the N. Y. Times called attention to the fact. The pretence of the Tribune arrises from the exposure of the paucity of the number of soreheads, and their fear that a mass convention at Cincinnati would evidence either that it was a Democratic gathering, or that, if republican at all, it would endorse the Philadelphia Convention and its authority to speak for all true Republicans. No respectable Republican would encourage the suggestion of the N. Y. Herald to pack the Convention at Cincinnati. Such a course would cause the martyrdom of a few wailing malcontents, and give them more impertance in the politics of the country then they would ever be able to earn by their unassisted destructive genius. Nearly all the men of standing in the country who have been named by the Tribune or Senator Tipton as affiliating with the proposed Assistant Democratic Convention have positively declined to act as physicians at this sorehead hospital. A little trepanning at Cincinnati by which the brain of Mr. Greeley may be relieved of its present high pressure, will no doubt result in present benefit, if it does not positively cure him of a disposition to be an independent President maker. He has tried the remedy before, and the Philadelphia Convention will doubtless put a head on him and make him again sound as a new dollar, as did the Convention which re-nominated President Lincoln.

THE INVESTIGATION MANIA.

The papers here are filled with evidence taken before the Investigating Committee.

The N. Y. Custom House, the Sale of Arms, the Seneca Stone, the District of Columbia, the Navy Department, and several other interesting Committees have been at work for some weeks at the expense of no less than $250,000 for witness fees, printing, reporting, &c., and absolutely nothing new has been elicited. The public press now days keeps so sharp an eye upon all public affairs that the facts become instantly known. Thus despite all extraordinary efforts of the enemies of the Administration to gather up all the purchasable materials from Maine to Texas, to swear exparte against Grant, and the loading officials, nothing worth recording has been discovered.

Before long the country will see through the barefaced swindle. First, lies made out of whole cloth are published, and upon these an investigation is asked. If the Republican party refuses a Committee, it is at once asserted that these lies stand confessed as truth. But if a Committee is granted enough disappointed men are expected to come forward to swear to enough of a case to enable the Schurz reformers to throw dirt at the administration,

A BLOW AT THE CLERKS.

The House of Representatives yesterday passed a bill forbidding clerks in a Department frm acting as attorney or agent before the Department within two years from the time they left such employment under a penalty not exceeding $5,000 and an imprisonment of not more than one year in the Penetentiary. A similar law passed the House last session, but failed in the Senate. It was proposed to make the law apply to officers and members of Congress as well as clerks, but a substitute leaving all out save the clerks was finally passed by a large vote. Thus the head of a Bureau incurs no penalty and is justified by law in doing the same act which in the subordinate becomes a high misdemeanor. It is difficult to see the equity in this character of legislation; a clerk after giving his best energies to his duties for years until he knows little else and is rendered unfit for outside business, if suddenly dismissed from office to which he is liable without any fault of his own, is persecuted by this law for two years after his living is taken from him. It is impracticable to make the law operative, for no such law can prevent a man from acting as clerk for someone who does practice in the Department. If this is a specimen of law inteuded to reform the civil service, it nas in my opinion little to recommend it, more especially as it is retroactive in its character, and, if it became a law, will place the status of a clerk lower than when he entered upon his duties and will give him little encouragement or pride in a profession which is thus hampered by penal restrictions in futuro

SALE OF ARMS.

Secretary Robeson testified before the House Arms Committee yesterday that ten thousand stand of Remington rifles made for the use of the navy, and which contained a defect were sold to Poultney, Trumble & Co., of Baltimore, at an offer made by them of $20 a piece, the Government making $40,000 by the transaction. The agreement was made and the arms sold to this firm after the conclusion of peace between France and Germany. The Secretary testified that he had no idea what the firm wanted of these arms except for purposes of speculation.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Governor Warmouth, of Louisiana, left Washington this morning for New York, with his friend S. A. Hatch, of New Orleans, he has been a guest for days at the Arlington.

Chas. H. Miller, of the warrant division of the Treasury Department, a day or two since received an appointment as a private secretary to the Japanese Embassy, and has started for Japan.

Committees of the different colored societies of the District are making arrangements for the emancipation celebration in April, and hold a meeting on Monday night next to make a general report.

The Senate Committee on Public Lands occupied yesterday in the consideration of the bill remodeling the entire land system of the Government. The bill was not completed, but was brought into shape and will be finished the next meeting.

About a dozen of the Democrats of the House have independence enough to vote for subsidies to encourage American Commerce. Others are marshaled by their leader, Hon. Samuel J. Randall, who is an expediency man, and thinks to make something by refusing appropriations on the part of his side of the House.

The only recommendation that has been announced as in favor of the aristocratic working man's candidate, Judge Davis, is that he has but one brother-in-law, and that is already denied.

Ben. Wade being recently interviewed on the political situation said, "H—ll is to pay all around." He failed to say which of the destructives claimed the most pitch.

A LETTER TO A YOUNG MAN.

Dear Agustus Claude:

You write asking me to give you some advice, as you say your time so far has been spent in the seclusion of your office, now you intend to come forth from your retreat and mingle with the "gay and festive," and have very little idea of what is needed to make you "a society man." You want particularly to know how to deport yourself when in the society of ladies—all about the appearance, and the style of conversation. It is a noble conclusion to which you have come, and I will do all in my power to assist you.

My model is from the most perfect ladies-man this city can afford; so you may be sure that you cannot err, but will be received with open arms by "the fairest of the fair," if you will be guided by the following directions.

In the first place take some work on Poetry, Byron will do, perhaps, and commit all he says about "dark languishing eyes" and "locks like the ravens;" also, as the lady may be a blonde, all the selections on "eyes of heavenly blue" and "tresses that shame the sun-beams;" also everything about "broken hearts" and "cupid's darts."

These are always in season, and if you deliver them with slightly upraised eyes and with one hand gently pressing that portion of your body where your heart is supposed to be, will produce a fine effect.

Also learn some quotations from Shakspere, for though the lady cannot be expected to understand them, still, if you sprinkle your conversation with them you will impress her with an idea of your superiority, and as she very likely has never seen that book, perhaps will think them original with you.

Buy the smallest boots you can possibly manage to get on, and blacken them till they shine like a newly polished looking-glass, and dye and wax your moustache till it forms a perfect half circle. Be very particular about that moustache, as ladies always admire them so! Also tie your cravat exquisitely. This may be of any color you please except red, for all ladies, young and old, detest red necktics.

About five minutes after you have entered the ladie's parlor ask her "who her sweetheart is." She will not be surprised as she has heard that question so many times before she is quite use to it; but it is a good thing to commence a conversation on—about as general too as the "weather topic" is with older persons. She will tell you, you may be sure, that she hasent any "sweetheart." Dont believe her, that is, pretend not to, and tease her about the gentleman that has lately taken her to church. Tell her that you heard him say (in your imagination) that he was desperately in love with her. That will place her on such comfortable terms with him when next they meet.

Tell her that she is breaking the hearts of all the young men in town. This will afford her a great deal of satisfaction, for she knows there is no use wasting her pity on these poor fellows, as their hearts have the happy faculty of being easily mended when an other lady smiles. While telling the above, place your hand on your heart, or look at her beseechingly, giving her to und rstand that you are in the same condition and only wait her approval to fall at her feet and with all the eloquence of which you are capable, offer for her acceptance a heart overflowing with love for and admiration of her wonderful charms. Do not really commit yourself though, for you will want to talk in the same strain to an other lady the next evening. Next tell the young lady she is beautiful whether you think so or not. She will be sure to believe you even if her looking-glass does tell her exactly the opposite, for she will think of course that you are a better judge than any mirror.

Some times ask her if she don't think she is fine looking. You are certain she does, for every lady imagines herself the most beautiful person the world has ever produced. (I got that idea from a gentleman so it must be true.) She may blush and look confused but that is only for effect.

Praise her eyes, hair, hands, and form, as if she was some rare animal set up for admiration or criticism. This will show off your good breeding to excelent advantage. Always talk to her about marriage. This will always gratify her, for the chief end, aim and anxiety of woman kind is——to get a man! Neither flattery or love nonsense will please a few young ladies, so compliment them on their intellectual abilities. This will delight when all else may fail, for very few young ladies can resist being told they are smart. Laugh to yourself as much as you please while you are telling this. It will not make any difference as long as they dont know of it. Poor little innocent dears! They will believe every thing you tell them, so say any thing you please.

If there is any thing about which you think her particularly sensitive or your imagination could conceive her to be so, bring that subject up on every occasion. For instance, if nature has bestowed upon her a matured, well-developed figure, make some reference to the "Ohio fat woman," and ask one who has not been so benevolently favored "how much she weighs." This will make her think so pleasantly about you after your departure, and she will long for the time to come when she shall see you again.

Now I will tell you what you must not do,

Never talk sense to a lady. She cannot understand it. Havn't we been told time and again that a womans thoughts are upon nothing but dress and men, and that every thing they do is done to please the masculine gender. (A laudable notion indeed!) They know that men like pretty girls and dislike "smart" ones, so they try to look nicely and let learning alone. A good way for the ladies to get out of bothering their brains isn't it? As if the men had not enough to do to bear the burden of their own sins!

If all the disagreeable things that are said about women were true, you "lords of creation" would have a right to one quarter of the conceit which you all so abundantly possess. But thank fortune. O! excuse me I have wandered from my theme, but now, making an apology, I will take it up again.

Never speak the truth to a young lady. She might find out something beneath the "fair out side" if you did, that would never do. "The end justifies the means" you know, so it is all right. If you see a smile on a lady's face while you are conversing thus, never allow the thought that she is amusing herself at your expence to be entertained for a moment She smiles because she is so pleasently diverted, of course.

Never beleive that she makes a motion or gives you a glance unless it has been practiced over and over again before her mirror ere your arrival.

But I am giving you so many directions that I fear you will not benefit by them if I tell you more at the present time, so will reserve the few, I still could write about, till I hear from you again.

Write soon and tell me all about your good fortune with the fair sex, for I shall be all impatience till tidings of it reaches me.

That success may attend you is the wish of Your Friend,

MILLIE DARE.

Elizabeth City, N. C. March 1872.

Reply to "Jolly Jack."

BY ONE OF THE "OLD FOLKS."

My Dear Jacky: If I am not mistaken I think the title of your "Plea for the young folks" should have been; "An attack upon the old folks," that is to say that you instead of making a defense of youth, simply made an attack on old age. Now I am nearly sixty years of age, "Jolly Jack" and I must say that in all my long experience I have never yet seen quite just such a ninny as you are. Why my dear "Jacky" I know that it is not only characteristic of young folks to be jolly, but that it is perfectly right that they should be so. You say that the Bible says there is a time for all things; well, granted: then should there not be a time also for study, for work, for quiet and for rest? Should we consider justly "all things" and devote our whole time and attention to seeing how great ninnys we can make of ourselves by keeping the girls (God bless them) up every night until the "wee small hours" causing their bright eyes to look as if they had been rubbed with red pepper?

And then you say "Jacky" dear that we old folks try to restrain you, and because we have had our time we don't want you young folks to have yours, and that we "kick up a muss" in consequence. Now my dear Jack, let us put a case to you, and then you give us just such an answer as you think is our due. We will take Mr. Geo. Washington Napoleon Fitznoodle who writes a note somewhat after this style:

Mr. G. W. N., esq., presents his compliments to Miss Roxabel Adelia Simperton and would be exceedingly and infinitessionally happy if she would allow him the distinguished honor of paying his respects to her this evening at 9 o'clock.

Of course Miss Roxabel Adelia can not do otherwise than grant his grandiloquent request. So far, so good; but Geo. W. N. Fitz. after staying until decent bedtime is not yet ready to go, so he politely asks Roxabel to honor him with her favorite song on the piano; "Really now Mr. Fitznoodle you know I can't sing, I have such an awful cold, can't you excuse me?" But no, he cannot, so after a good deal of persuasion she consents and taking her seat strikes the keys fiercely (they in the meantime crying out against being disturbed at so late an hour) and sings in a sweet terrible voice some love sick nonsense. He in the course of the song joins with his strong bass voice, making the very house to quake and tremble with passion at being filled with such discordant sounds. Of course the "old folks" lying in the next room are not disturbed. Why should they be? They have been hard at work all day, as a consequence they must sleep soundly now. Geo. Wash. Nap. Fitznoodle and Roxabel Adelia have been sleeping or lounging all day, naturally they are not at all sleepy. Now friend Jack is this not all so?

You also say dear Jack that "young folks are not such big fools after all, they frequently display more sense than old folks." As you made a quotation, I hope you will forgive me if I do likewise: Solomon says, "The fool is wise in his own conceit." I hope truly that he had no premonition of what you would say Jacky dear.

Now Jacky we have no objection to your enjoying yourselves, but do for your own sakes use some discretion in the matter; don't go to see the girls every night, and when you do go don't stay so long for you only tire the (sensible) girls. I had like to have forgot, so you think the old adage "young folks think old folks are fools, but old folks know that young folks are" ought to be revised do you? Let me tell you a little story: Once upon a time a young chicken saw a duck swimming in a pond close by, so she said to her mother, "why may I not swim too mother like that duck, my legs are longer than his?" Said her mother, "My daughter though your legs are longer still you can't swim, see, your feet are not webbed like his which proves you were made for walking and not for swimming," but the little chick THOUGHT her mother a fool, so waiting until she was out of sight she rushed to the pond and flew in. Immediately she found out her mistake; the more she struggled the deeper she sank, so giving up in despair she drowned.

"And now I hope that this will show
The child my story reading,
That those who are older sometimes know
What you will do well in heeding."

Edenton Items.

—Snow—last Friday night.

—Steamer Cahill arrived from Baltimore yesterday.

—The Fisheries are not doing well, owing to bad weather.

—Steamer Cannon and Str. Astoria arrived from Norfolk, on regular trips.

—A word to our farmers—it is not what you make, but what you may save, that will make you rich.

— Wanted—a candidate for Mayor of Edenton. The present incumbent declines to accept a renomination.

— Hard work—Walking in the mud, but there is nothing else to walk in this March.

— A gentle hint to immodest and brutish people, viz:

Immodest words admit of no defense,
For want of decency is want of sense.
POPE.

—Almost a fire—Foster's Mill caught on the roof a few days since, but the fire was soon extinguished, damage very little.

— The Sloop A. C. Pole is now owned in this District. She has been newly painted and repaired.

— Poor Business—running for Congress again, a head wind. Better not run. Who is doing so?

— Hard times—working people complain of hard times. The weather is too inclement for out door work.

— Our energetic towsman Chas. Blair is running a fishery at Cheshire's Hill. We wish him good luck.

—Judge Moore was in town the other day. He is looking well, and seems to be as happy as ever. We are always glad to see him at home.

— Our present Register of Deeds O. F. Gilbert is spoken of as the Republican nominee for the Sheriff's Office. He is a deserving man and a good Republican.

—Sad accident—We are pained to learn that Mrs. John Roberts was thrown from a carriage, and received some injury. Not very dangerous, as we are pleased to learn.

— A little advice— oath and thrift oftener go together than most persons are aware of; but neither can be extracted from a whiskey barrel.

— Fashionable talk on the streets.—Tod R. Caldwell for Governor. Everybody wants him to stay where he is, and be Governor. He knows "how to play his part."

— Mistaken—the young men, who think there is a certain quantity of wild oats to be sown in order to get the ground ready for a crop of tame ones. Stop sowing oats and plant peas. The latter will pay best.

— Our Merchants go North for goods about the 1st of April. Let us have the best goods the Northern Markets afford and the ladies will buy them. Women keep the world in motion, and exercise a controling influence over the money market. Remember this!

— For the ladies.—Curran, speaking of Madame de Stael, who was by no means handsome, but a splendid conversationalist, said that she had "the power of talking herself into a beauty." Some people might make themselves more beautiful, and they ought to try.

—Room, room, plenty of room! For any good, honest, energetic business man, who understands how to make things move. Come quick, and buy land, build houses, start factories, introduce life and activity in our midst, and you will soon get rich. You will be kindly received by Edentonians.

— Getting ready to move to the front—the Politicians. All we ask is for you to tell the truth, and it will be to the people of North Carolina what the light-house is to the Mariner upon a rock bound sea-shore, it will guide thousands to the point of liberty and safety—the Ballot Box. See, then, that you tell the truth!

— Blooming "in season and out of season"—red faces. The City of Raleigh has a strange and most unaccountable process for producing red faces. Have seen samples of them very recently, fresh from "the City of Oaks," and the redness is most unnatural, aye hideous. What is it? Is there a Bar Room in the State Capital?

— Dull times:—the winds and waves of commerce may beat against old Edenton, but like a rock, planted in a troubled sea, this ancient Town remains unmoved. We want a Railroad and we must have it. Blow! blow, ye politicians, blow! and bring that Railroad.

Notice in Bankruptcy.
Bowell's N. Y. Advertisements.
Notice from Dare county.
Proclamation of Outlawry.

Local and Personal.

☞ Read the effusions of our correspondents this week. They are spicy.

☞ Hon. Judge POOL holds Court in this county next week.

☞ The Democracy of Hyde county is pushing Col. D. M. CARTER forward as their candidate for Congress.

☞ Rev. SOLOMON POOL, President of the University, has been spending a few days in our City.

☞ We hear of a new edition of a book entitled "Lamps, Pitchers and Trumpets." We are waiting for its sequel "Pots, Pans and Kettles."

☞ Hon. C. L. COBB was home on a short visit last week. He returned to the call of duty on Monday. He is one of the working Members of Congress.

☞ The work on the new Hotel is beginning in earnest. Teams are busy delivering the material. It is intended to be ready for guests in the Fall.

☞ March, this year not only came in like a lion, but the indications are that it will continue its lion-like mein to the very end.

☞ Republicans of Pasquotank! Remember the Convention on Saturday at o'clock P. M., in the Court House to appoint delegates to the State Convention. There will be several addresses on the occasion.

☞ In the days gone bye the precept was "Know thyself." In modern times it is too generally supplanted by the maxim: "Know thy neighbor and everything about him."

☞ A cotemporary insists that in the olden time girls didn't behave any better than they do now-a-days. Even the Old Testament tells how RUTH followed the reapers around.

☞ Dr. F. N. MULLEN, of South Mills, sends us a potato of this year's growth measuring 4 inches in circumference. The Doctor should report to the Farmer's Club" how it was done.

☞ A neighboring Post Master is in quandary. A letter has been sent to his office addressed "To the Belle of the ball." He says that every young lady is claiming it. He begins to fear that the only way out of the difficulty is to open it.

☞ JAMES F. GARRENTON, of Shiloh, writes us saying that his professional duties make it impracticable for him to accept the position of delegate to the Republican State Convention. He tenders his acknowledgments for the confidence manifested by the Convention at Camden C. H., on the 15th.

☞ A gentleman from Camden, on renewing his subscription, takes occasion to say:

"While I don't endorse all you say politically, I find that to get the news—local and general—I must continue the NORTH CAROLINIAN."

Take, true. Though a Conservative, our friend's head is pretty nearly level. He "knows what's what."

☞ Every man has a right to his opinions and he has the right to leave the Democratic party and co-operate with the Republicans without being abused for it. Vituperative personalities won't prevent honest and thinking men from openly acting in accordance with their convictions of right and duty.

☞ At the late term of the Superior Court at Winsor, Bertie county, a man named ROBERT M. BRIDGER was tried for perjury. The jury brought in a verdict of guilty. On his way to jail in the custody of the Sheriff, he broke away and succeeded in making his escape. Several shots were fired at him, but without effect. The Sheriff has offered a reward for him, and this week—see our advertising columns—a Proclamation of out lawry is issued.

☞ The Rev. P. A. STROBLE General Agent of the Bible Society for N. C. addressed the citizens of Elizabeth City, in the M. E. Church, on Thursday evening last. The meeting was opened by Rev. S. S. LAMBETH, Pastor of the Church by reading a Hymn and the 16th Psalm. The Rev. Mr. SIMPSON of the Baptist Church offered an appropriate prayer. The address of the Agent was listened to with marked attention and made a favorable impression. The condition of the Pasquotank Bible Society is favorable. They have a balance of $14.50 to their credit at the Bible House in New York. At the beginning of the year they had on hand nearly $85,95 worth of books. Amount sold $28,70; amount donated $13,40; value of books on hand $43,85. The collection at this meeting amounted to $80. This, with the sum in the Treasury, enabled the Society to pay the Agent about $50. Efforts are to be made to canvass the county, raise funds and to supply all destitution which may be found to exist. We were pleased to make the acquaintance of the Agent and found him to be an affable, intelligent Christian gentleman—one evidently qualified for the great work he is engaged in.

☞ A large instalment of new advertisements this week. Read them all. See "Rowell's Column." He is our New York Agent, and is honorable and reliable.

☞ The next regular communication of Eureka Lodge A. Y. M. will be held in their hall at this place an Monday evening next. A cordial invitation is extended to all the Brethren in the city.

☞ The subject of the Free Ferry across the River at this place to Camden is attracting attention. It is an important enterprize and ought to be agitated.

☞ No marriages to chronicle this week. The Hymenial market seems dull. Some of the bashful boys begin to think leap year a humbug as they say they have had nary proposal yet.

☞ Does the Post Master at Norfolk know there is a daily mail to Elizabeth City, or is the trouble somewhere else? For the past three months we get no New York mail on Tuesday's, Thursday's and Saturday's, and on the alternate days we get a double instalment. Let the matter be remedied.

☞ Among the Northern arrivals since our last we notice F. D. BUNNELL, of Wellsboro, Pa. He has become the owner of some property here which he is improving. He has also just purchased the splendid farm of Mr. PERRY, including his Nurseries and Fishery, for which he pays $15,000. Mr. BUNNELL is a live man and means business.

☞ We must decline the communication of "Ethics." It is too metaphysical for our readers and for us. There are other ways of discussing the question as to whether the true dignity of human nature is promoted by the universal acceptance of the doctrine that every man is equal to his fellow. It must be remembered that there are two ways in which this idea is apt to present itself. It is not only a habit of mind to think that, as it has been phrased, every man is as good as every other—and better; but the thought often presents itself in the shape of, every man is as bad as every other—and worse.

LOCAL PORT-FOLIO.

Needs no accuser—a guilty conscience. Quiet—the local news market. Beginning to open their eyes—the politicians. Rather brisk—original sin. Geting over it—the man who was paralysed with fear. A dumb belle—the girl who was struck dumb with horror. Not amiss—a pretty widow. Motto for a cat show—"come to the scratch." One way to consume time—eat dates. A hard case—an oysters. Seems odd on the face of it—the fact that a watch when sold always changes hands. Woman's rights this year—the rites of matrimony. Obliging and accommodating—our friend Steager the Baker. If you want the news—take the NORTH CAROLINIAN.

WHAT DYSPEPSIA MAY END IN.—Indigestion is not dangerous, say the faculty. Perhaps not in itself while it remains mere indigestion; but look at the consequences to which it may lead, and often does lead when it becomes a chronic disease. A spark of fire is a small thing. A pressure of the foot will put it out a breath will extinguish it. Yet it may fire a powder mill, or kindle a flame that will consume a city. In like manner indigestion may produce gastritis, cancer of the stomach, congestion of the bowels, appoplexy liver disease, and many other dangerous maladies. Is it not wise, then, to check it in the germ? Nothing is more clearly and indisputably established than that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters will eradicate dyspepsia in all its stages. The true policy, however, is to extinguish it in in the first stages with this wholesome powerful, and infallible tonic and alterative. It is easier to quench a spark than a flame, and it is easier to cure dyspepsia when it is first developed, than when it has made head way by neglect, and become complicated with other ailments. There is not the shadow of a donbt that the bitters are as directly antagonistic to dyspepsia as water is to fire. There are thousands of cases on record proving this fact. The remedy is safe and agreeable. All the liquors of commerce prescribed as stimulants leave a sting behind. But the sting is taken out of the spirituous basis of this great remedy by vegetable medication, and, moreover, the stimulant thus medicated is of exceptional purity. Of all tonics taken as safeguards or remedies for feaver and ague, bilious remittents, and other epidemics, it is the only one that can uniformerly be depended on.

It is a sure preventive of all diseases incident to this animal, such as LUNG FEVER, GLANDERS, YELLOW WATER, HEAVES, COUGHS, DISTEMPER, FEVERS, FOUNDER, LOSS OF APPETITE AND VITAL ENERGY, &c. Its use improves the wind, increases the appetite—gives a smooth and glossy skin—and transforms the miserable skeleton into fine looking and spirited horse.

To keepers of Cows this preparation is invaluable. It is a sure preventive against Rinderpest, Hollow Horn, etc. It has been proven by actual experiment to increase the quantity of milk and cream twenty per cent. and make the butter firm and sweet. In fattening cattle, it gives them an appetite, loosens their hide, and makes them thrive much faster.

AGRICULTURAL, HORTICULTURAL AND DOMESTIC MATTERS.

Treatment of Distemper.

The treatment of a common case distemper is very simple, and requires internal medicines only, when the fever is high the mucous membrane much reddened and the respiration difficult. In other cases, but especially as soon as the cough has become loose and easy, the discharge from nostrils thick and the abscesses have been opened, a merely hygienic and dietetical treatment is quite sufficient. Respecting these, we have to avoid any exposure of the patient to wet and cold, have to keep as much as possible, a uniform temperature in the stable and to give easily digested food, such as bran, mashes, malt, broiled oats, carrats, and, if it can be had, young grass and, other green provender.

If there is considerable swelling beneath the jaw or in the throat, the horse should not be allowed to eat from the ground—consequently he should not be kept in the pasture—for that most likely will increase the swelling. Food and water—the latter in the cold season a little warmed—must be put into the manger, within easy reach of the animal. The application of a good fly blister on the swelling beneath the jaw, that is, between the two branches of the lower jaw bone, hastens considerable the ripening of the abscess, which should be lanced at its lowest point and, if possible, near the center, as soon as the presence of the matter can be detected. Steam baths and all that kind of nonsense incommode the patient and do a great deal more harm than they do good.

If internal medicines are required, a dose of tarter emetic, two scruples of sal ammoniac, two drachms with a little licorice root powder, anise seed powder and marshmallow root powder, either mixed with a little water and made into pills may be given to a full grown horse three times a day, till the respiration has become less difficult, the cough easier and the discharge from the nostrils thick. —Prof. Detmanin, in National Live Stick Journal.

Keep the Cattle Growing.

The most successful breeders of horses, cattle, sheep, or swine, know from experience that although they may possess the best breeding animals, they will not be successful in producing superior stock if a continuous growth of the young animals is not kept up. In order to begin in time at this indispensible preparation for success, the brood mares, cows, ewes and sows are most carefully and suitably fed while with young, and as soon as the young animals make their appearance, they are taken the greatest care of, the dams being suitably fed while suckling, and when the young ones are weaned they are not supposed to want for food or drink a single hour. By this means a continuous or rapid growth is kept, and the animals attain a large size and heavy weight at an early age. When breeding animals are not properly fed and comfortably sheltered in Winter, the bad effect of such treatment is not confined to their own want of condition—it is shared by their progeny, and can never be remedied.—When young stock are not well fed and comfortably sheltered in Winter, their growth becomes stunted, and no subsequent amount of good treatment can repair the damage. Young animals may suffer for want of proper provender in Summer and Autumn, as well as in Winter, and when this happens it stops continous growth and prevents ultimate success in the object of the breeder.

Charcoal as a General Remedy.

Our rule has always been to give nothing unless we knew exactly what to do; and in the meantime attend to every exterior comfort practicable. If the weather is cold, place it in warm quarters, avoid all exposure, and attend to pure air and strict cleanliness. But there is one medicine that can never do harm, and is commonly beneficial; this is, pulverized charcoal. As we have just remarked, nearly all sick animals become so from improper eating, in the first place. Nine cases out of ten, the digestion is wrong. Charcoal is the most efficient and rapid corrective. It will cure in a majority of cases, if promptly administered. An example of its use—the hired man came in with the intelligence that one of the finest cows was very sick, and a kind neighbor proposed the usual drugs and poisons. The owner being ill and unable to examine the cow, concluded that the trouble came from some overeating, and ordered a tea-cup of pulverized charcoal given in water. It was mixed, placed in a junk bottle, the head held upward, and the water with its charcoal poured downward. In five minutes an improvement was visible, and in a few hours the animal was in the pasture quietly eating grass. Another instance of equal success occurred with a young heifer which became badly bloated by eating green apples after a hard wind. The bloat was so severe that the sides were almost as hard as a barrel. The old remedy, saleratus, was tried for the purpose of correcting the accidity. But the attempt to put it down always caused coughing, and it did little good. Half a teacupful of fresh powdered charcoal was next given. In six hours all appearance of bloat had gone, and the heifer was well.—Country Gentleman.

Information to Horse Owners.

Keep the legs of your horses clean, as dirt is productive of disease.

Scratches and heel cracks are cured by the following method: Wash the feet clean, then dry thoroughly, and apply carbolic salve at least twice a day. Pursue the same course for collar and saddle galls.

The following is said to be a sure test of a horse's age: After the horse is nine years old, a wrinkle comes on the eyelid. At the upper corner of the lower lid, and every year thereafter he has one well defined wrinkle for each year of his age over nine. If, for instance, a horse has three wrinkles, he is twelve. Add the number of wrinkles to nine, and you will always get at his age.

To get horses out of a burning building, harness them as if for their usual work, and they will follow you out as if nothing was the matter.

To cure a balky horse, tie his tail to a whiffletree, just so that when his mate pulls a little, a strain will come on his tail. Instead of beating and whipping a balky horse, try this simple remedy.

To make good harness blacking take three ounces of beeswax, four ounces ivory black, one pint neatsfoot oil, two ounces castile soap, two ounces lard, one ounce aloes—to be boiled together, and poured in a basin to cool.

Cochineal Insects.

It takes sixty-five thousand cochineal insects to make one pound in weight, and the amount imported into this country last year was 1,849,842 pounds. The annual slaughter of these harmless insects, therefore, to supply carmine for American ladies, toilets, and the various dyes and tints for their ribbons, feathers, and dresses of red, crimson, scadlet, magenta, solferino, and other similar colors, actually reaches 120,239,730,000 in number! These figures are perfectly awful, but some of the uses of carmine are worse.—Virginia State Journal.

DESCRIPTIVE CATALOGUE.

OF VALUABLE

NORTH CAROLINA LANDS,

FOR SALE BY

GEORGE D. POOL.

Real Estate Agent,

ELIZABETH CITY, N. C.

In presenting my list of lands and other properties for sale, I would say that no section of the United States offers such inducements for capitalists and emigrants, as this section of North Carolina. In longevity and healthfulness, it will compare favorably with any where; and in easy and cheap transportation of products to market, in pleasantness of climate, in the sociability of the people, in great fertility, and durability of soil, no section can equal it.

A railroad will soon be built to Weldon, putting this place in direct communication by Rail, with the whole United States. This, together with our great fishing, farming and manufacturing interests, and certain early completion of already projected works of improvement for putting in nearer, cheaper and easier communication with the Ocean, will render this one of the most important commercial, and manufacturing points on the Southern country.

A Steam Saw and Grist Mill in the town of Nixonton 8 miles from E. City. This Mill has a fine wharf and store attached on deep navigable water, the engine is 40 horse power, and all in good order. It is one of the finest locations to be found any where for custom work, and for getting good saw logs easily and cheaply. Price $4,000 cash.

Adjoining the mill property is 40 acres of fine land on the River, with three houses, all for $1200. Near the same is a good two story dwelling and 13 acres of land for $2,000, and a good one story dwelling, with one acre of land for $300.

Also two fine farms in Pasquotauk county, 10 miles from E. City, within half mile of church, school house and post office. One tract contains about 400 acres, with fair buildings and mostly cleared, and the other contains 300 acres, with good two story dwelling, large barn, and other outhouses, both are offered at $20 per acre, one third cash, balance in one and two years.

Also one other tract in Pasquotank county, containing 116 acres, within one mile of the town with fine buildings, mostly cleared and in cultivation. Price $25 per acre, one half cash, balance in 12 months.

A valuable site for a hotel at Nag's Head, 40 miles from Elizabeth City, and 50 miles from Edenton. This is situated immediately on the Ocean, and is a famous Summer resort for invalids, and those seeking health, comfort, and amusements during the summer months. It is in direct communication by steamboats and railroad with all parts of North Carolina, Virginia, and the North; and is equal in natural advantages to Newport, or Cape May. Visitors flock to this famous summer resort by hundreds and thousands, and a large amount of money can be made by a hotel. A charter has been obtained from the Legislature of N. C., for a joint stock company to build the hotel. There is now an old hotel on the spot, which could be cheaply repaired and bought for $3,000. This hotel, though imperfectly kept, cleared the proprietor last season, over $3,000. For a man or a company, having some capital, this is one of the finest chances to make money at hotel keeping to be found anywhere. The early attention of the public is invited to this property.

A fine steam saw and grist mill at Hertford, the county seat of Perquimans County, N. C., 18 miles from Elizabeth City. This mill has a fifty horse power engine, now in good running, two pairs of best French burr stones, and two upright saws. The house has a brick basement, and the building is large and in good order. There is one and a half acres of land belonging to this property, and a good two story dwelling, and other out-houses. The section of country adjacent abounds in the finest yellow pine, cypress, ash, poplar, and other valuable timber. This property originally cost $15,000, and is now offered at forced sale for the low price of $3,500, $7,00, cash, and the balance in six equal instalments, six months apart each with interest.

A fine farm and fishery in same county. The farm contains 400 acres of the finest land, lies immediately on Albemarle Sound where the water is 12 miles wide, and 18 to 20 feet deep, has got buildings, and fine neighborhood. The fishery is on the farm and goes with it. It has a new seine 2,500 yards long, and all the necessary boats, buildings, &c., (which cost over $15,000 two years ago.) The fishery alone, of a good season, will make from 5 to $10,000 profit to the owner. This property is offered at forced sale for the low price of $20,000, $7,000 cash, balance on easy times.

A store at South Mills, in Camden county, 20 miles from E. City, and 20 miles from Norfolk, lying on the canal where steamers pass daily. A fine chance for merchandize. Store is large with dwelling above containing six rooms, is in first rate order, has office, kitchen, dairy, and other necessary outhouses. Goods to the amt. of $50,000 per annum can be sold here, and at large profits. A splended stand for a country retail store. Price $2,500—one third cash, balance in one and two years.

A valuable tract of land in Camden county, at South Mills, on the Dismal Swamp Canal, lying on the canal for two miles, containing over 900 acres of land—two-thirds cleared, and in a fine state of cultivation, with good buildings, &c.; balance in valuable timber. Price $12,000, one-third cash, balance in one and two years, interest from January, 1871. This is a valuable farm for corn, wheat, and vegetables, and being midway between Elizabeth City and Norfolk, and located where steamers pass by the door daily, is a desirable and cheap property.

A fine farm of 600 acres within six miles of E. City, one mile from navigable water, and the best cotton farm in the State. It is also well adapted to raising corn and wheat. This farm has a splended two-story dwelling upon it, large barn, 40 by 60 feet, a large number of outhouses, by splended trees and shrubbery, is in a strong Union neighborhood, and altogether the most desirable place in the county. A little over one-half of this land is cleared, and the balance is covered with the finest yellow pine, poplar, ash and other timber. Price $30 per acre—one third cash, balance in one and two years with interest. Title reserved.

Sixteen houses and lots in Elizabeth City, with good dwellings, out-houses, &c. Prices and terms reasonable.

A valuable farm in Perquimans county, N. C. near navigable water. Has a fine dwelling-house with ten rooms, in splended order, with splended barns and stables—all in first rate order. The farm is very productive in corn, oats, wheat, cotton and clover. It is one of the finest farms in the State and is now in good cultivation, contains 585 acres of land, about three-fourths cleared and under cultivation. Price $10,000, one-third cash January 1, next balance in two equal annual instalments with interest at the rate of 8 per cent.

A farm of 370 acres 8 miles from town by water, and 12 miles by land, is offered for sale for $10,000 in easy payments. This tract of land lies immediately on the River which is 4 miles wide and washes the farm its whole length on one side, and a branch of the River one mile wide, binds it on one end. The land is well adapted to raising corn, wheat, cotton, oats, peas, &c., lies high and dry, and is susceptible of the highest improvement. Fronting and looking over, as it does, two large sheets of navigable water, where steamers and sailing vessels are constantly passing, carrying freight and passengers to all parts of the country, its location and surroundings, are of the most fascinating and desirable character. There is a fishery on it ready for working a seine 2,500 yards long, and which commands a portion of both streams of water, and can be made immensely profitable. The price charged is low, and the purchase a very desirable one. The buildings consist of a good two-story dwelling and out-houses.

A tract of valuable land, containing 356 acres, with fine two story dwelling containing 9 rooms and cook-room. Servant's house with 3 rooms, large barns and stables, all necessary and convenient out-houses, 3 tenant-houses near town, and immediately on the River. About 200 acres of this land is in fine wood and timber, balance in a fine state of cultivation. It has 8,000 grape vines one year old, 3,500 peach, apple and dwarf pear trees, five acres in strawberries which yielded an immence profit this year, ten acres in Lawton and other rare varieties of black-berries, 15 to 20,000 young peach trees with other choice fruits too numerous to mention. This farm has a public road on one side, and the River on the other, where strangers come daily to the landings to receive the fruits and vegetables, and carry them down to Norfolk, Baltimore, Phila., or New York. The land is finely adapted to raising corn, wheat, cotton, oats, and all other field crops.

The owner of this farm offers to sell in tracts, to suit purchasers, say in 50 to 100 acre tracts, and at prices ranging from 35 to $80 per acre, according to location, buildings, &c.

There is also on this farm a fine fishery, where a seine 1,000 yards long, and 20 feet deep is hauled every Spring. Herring, Shad, Rockfish, Sturgeon and other valuable fish, are caught by thousands at every draw of the seine. And the profits are frequently large. This fishery of itself is worth nearly as much as is charged for the whole property. The terms will be liberal. This is probably the finest opportunity offered any where for a profitable advestment.

☞ Fishery has an office, and two houses for hands besides fish house. Then some 500 to 1,000 loads of best fish manure on hand, besides over 5,000 loads of compost made ready for use. This goes with the farm.

A desirable house and lot in the town of Elizabeth City on the corner of two principal streets, the principal one, and situated in the best business locality in the town. The lot contains about two acres of land, and the buildings consist of a fair dwelling three stories high, containing eight rooms, all in good order, another two story building with four rooms and pantries, dairy, smokehouse, stables, &c. The dwelling has a good cellar under it. There is room on the front lot to erect two good stores, and they would occupy the best stand in the town for merchandize.

TO THE PUBLIC.

THE LAND AND LUMBER COMPANY having a large amount of Real Estate of their own to dispose of, and their business having increased to such an extent, they think it prudent to decline acting further as Commission Agents for the sale of lands belonging to others. They will however be glad at all times to furnish every facility to parties coming to Elizabeth City with a desire to look at the country and make purchases if they find it to their interest to do so.

The following list of property, owned by the Company, is offered for sale on the most reasonable terms. Their object now is to acquire a larger monied capital for the purpose of further developing their unimproved lands and carrying out their original design of increasing the Commerce and General Trade of Elizabeth City.

As there are others in the Commission Business, parties are referred to their advertisement for further information.

ELIZABETH CITY.

The following desirable list of Properties in Elizabeth City are offered at very reduced prices for cash or on time payments at rates which make any of them excellent investments for capitalists. We feel confident that this City is destined to become a large place and property will advance rapidly. Emigration is now tending Southernward and the feeling is in universal favor toward Elizabeth City.

A large two story dwelling known as the Parsonage, with fine double Piazza, front and back, large out kitchen, stables, carriage house, with 17 acres of ground well enclosed. This ground is all within the corporation of the City, and is well situated to lay out in building lots and make out of it ten fold the price asked for it.

A two-story dwelling containing ten rooms, 10,000 gallon cistern and all necessary out-houses, with large lot. Situated on Main Street. A Vacant Lot no better located and not so large as this was sold recently for $1600 cash.

A large brick store house and wharf situate on Water street; in E. City, comprising three lots with 400 feet of water front, permanently wharfed for the accommodation of large vessels. There is erected on these lots a large two-story brick building, 50 by 80 feet, well fitted up for a wholesale or retail trade at present occupied by the "Yankee Store."

A large wood store on west side of Water street 36 by 60, two stories high, being one of the best stands on Water street for merchandizing.

A House and Lot on Riverside Avenue. House 20ft front by 50 ft deep. Containing eight rooms with Pantry and Cellar, all well finished, modern style, and having all necessary out buildings. The lot contains a front of 400 ft, and would be a good location for a large shop or foundry as one whole side fronts on the water.

Also a large number of Wharf Lots, Mill Lots and Vacant Lots at very low prices, some of which are enumerated below. The Wharf Lots are 200ft deep and will be sold to any size desired along the River. Among them are some most eligible situations for Store Houses, Mills and Manufactories of any kind as there is a fine harbor immediately in front of them, having 30ft of water, sufficient for vessels of any capacity. Along Pennsylvania Avenue are offered some of the finest and choicest lots, for dwellings in town at prices varying according to location. This will be the finest street in town, is 80 feet wide, size of Lot 100ft front by 200ft deep. There are now a number of first class residences being erected on this street. Immediately in the vicinity of these Lots the Company have erected a large Planing Mill, Sash, Blind and Door Factory at a cost of near $20,000 and also their Saw Mill at a cost of near $15,000. That now is the proper time to invest in those Lots there can be no doubt, as they will double in value in a very short time. Lots not near so good as these, are now selling in other parts of the City at more than double the price asked for these.

VACANT LOTS.

Lots Nos. 150, 155, 158, 161, 163, 165, 167, 170. 172. 175, 178, 180, 182. 185, 187. 190' 193, 195, 198 and 200, situate on Pennsylvania avenue, in the new extension of Elizabeth City, all choice lots, intended for the better class of residences. This land is heavily set with wood and also has upon it a vast amount of saw timber, and has a most excellent soil. This is a fine location for a small Colony. There is now a Public Road running directly through it. This tract is offered at the low price of eight dollars per acre if sold to one party, or at only a fraction more if divided into small lots.

The Company will also sell their farm of 150 acres two miles from Elizabeth City. 125 acres cleared and under good cultivation, well fenced, having upon it two dwelling houses, one new and the necessary out buildinos wanted on a farm, and will be sold on very reasonable terms.

VINEGAR BITTERS

J. WALKER, Proprietor. R. H. McDONALD & Co., Druggists and Gen'l Agents, San Francisco, Cal., and 32 and 34 Commerce St., N. Y.

MILLIONS Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects. They are not a vile Fancy Drink, made of Fusel Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true medicine, made from the native roots and herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the System, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to directions, and remain long unwell, provided their bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms are the offsprings of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the Stomach and stimulate the torpid Liver and Bowels, which render them of unequaled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities, and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the System in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effects.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

Pin, Tape, and other Worms, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. Says a distinguished physiologist, there is scarcely an individual upon the face of the earth whose body is exempt from the presence of worms. It is not upon the healthy elements of the body that worms exist, but upon the diseased humors and slimy deposits that breed these living monsters of disease. No system of Medicine, no vermifuges, no anthelmintics, will free the system from worms like these Bitters.

Sold by all Druggists and Dealers.
